thINKingDANCE is proud to partner with Young Involved Philadelphia for the annual State of Young Philly event series!

Are you wondering how artists who work in theatres and public spaces are doing this year? Are you curious about how to support local arts organizations providing resources to children and adults to experience the arts? Are you interested in getting involved in an arts organization as a participant, creator, or student? This is the event for you to learn the dance perspective on the intersections of civic engagement and the arts in Philadelphia.

Brought to you by thINKingDANCE, your online home for dance and performing arts writing in Philadelphia. This event is being held as a part of the SOYP Event Series, organized by Young Involved Philadelphia, www.younginvolvedphila.org/soyp

State of Young Philly (SOYP) is an annual event series held in the fall that brings together over organizations and young Philadelphians, elected officials, organizational leaders, and millennials. SOYP 2020 will focus on how young Philadelphians can make a difference locally. what civic engagement means to young Philadelphians. Our theme this year is: "Start Local, Get Vocal". SOYP events will aim to provide information and opportunities for young Philadelphians to impact change locally. State of Young Philly 2020 will be held from October 8-22, 2020.
